

SAVISION RANKS IN THE DELOITTE TECHNOLOGY FAST50 AWARD 2015 FOR THE 3RD TIME

Amsterdam, Netherlands – October 12th, 2015 – Savision, the market leader of IT Operations Intelligence, Business Service, and Cloud Management solutions, announced today their 38th place in ranking for the Deloitte Technology Fast50 Award 2015 in the Netherlands.

The Deloitte Technology Fast50 is a yearly ranking of the fifty fastest-growing technology companies in a given geographic area. The ranking is based on five-year percentage revenue growth.

The Fast50 Award recognizes the leading businesses of the future – companies capable of thinking quickly and playing a leading role in their particular professional field.

“We are excited and proud to be ranked among the elite-fifty companies, especially as this is the 3rd time. Our dedication to continuous innovation and customer engagement is what contributed to our success of being among the elite-fifty companies. Listening to our customers’ feedback and anticipating market trends in our product development has been central to the fast growth of our business” said Diana Krieger, CEO of Savision.

“Deloitte’s Technology Fast50 Award honors technology leaders that were able to increase their phenomenal growth over the past five years,” said Martin Wabeke, Partner of Deloitte and Program Leader of the Technology Fast50. “Like all the other nominees, Savision’s proven track record and revenue growth earned the company a well-deserved spot on our list.”

With over 750 customers worldwide, Savision continues to expand its business into new regions and markets. The company announced the launch of a major new solution for 2016: a cloud-ready, vendor-agnostic, IT Operations Intelligence Business Service Management solution that creates a holistic view of IT and Business by consolidating, mapping and visualizing information from best in-class technologies.

The nomination for the Deloitte Technology Fast50 award means that Savision is also nominated for the Deloitte Global Technology Fast 500 award, recognizing the top 500 fastest-growing technology companies by region, based on percentage-revenue growth over five years.

In 2011 at Deloitte’s Rising Star Awards for companies younger than five years, Savision was the runner-up being ranked 2nd place by an independent jury. Today, retaining a spot on the list shows Savision keeps innovating their Business Service and Cloud Management solutions.
